Since the beginning of America, over 2,852,901 plus people have been killed in all our wars. Since the 1973 Roe v.
Wade decision on abortion, an average of 1,342,936 babies have died from surgical abortions each year. In just two years of surgical abortions, the war on the unborn has killed the same amount of all our war dead since 1776.

ADVERTISER
WEEK

Today, the church not only commemorates the Pentecost, but above all, participates in the mystery of the Holy Spirit, which is sent today to the church. We read the Word of God in the Holy Mass and not only go back to the history and remember what happened once, but we participate in this event as if it is taking place now. We become participants in the events. In the event of Pentecost we have signs, one of which is about the action of the Spirit and the other that the Holy Spirit really works or the affects. The upper room, the place where the apostles gathered is now a place sanctified by the Eucharist, love, good and now even sad. Despite Jesus' coming after his death to strengthen his disciples, a lot does not happen in their hearts. They still feel sadness and a fear of Jews. A note of uncertainty intertwines their lives. What's next... In today's first reading, we hear about fire and wind, these are signs that show something will happen here! God will come with His power. God is not in the signs of fire and wind, but instead, God reveals himself in man, including man's actions. This is his favorite way to manifest His power. We see such things happening every day in us. We see actions, we observe things and people, and the truth comes to us, God comes to me, to us, to act in us, to change, to make us better. Pentecost has very important affects; one is the apostles leave the Upper Room. They go out to people they are afraid of and fear. Another, is they gain the ability to communicate with the crowd around them. They speak their languages and they are understood, though they are Galileans. What does it mean to speak a foreign language? It shows that you have taken the effort and the time to learn and communicate thus revealing that we're important and you love us. If you speak your brother or your sister's language, then you love them. You think by their values. You want to be in their world. It is the Holy Spirit who comes to you today, and every day, who speaks in your language so that you understand. He respects you, loves you, cares for you, and leads you. There is only one question, whether you respect Him too, whether you are grateful and if you pay with goodness and love of everyday life. Does my gratefulness reflect my everyday choice?
