XV Ordinary Week A 2020

A long time ago there was a father who had two sons. He owned a lot of land, where both brothers and their father worked. They worked a lot. After the death of his father, the estate was divided into two equal parts. One brother got married, they had four children. The other brother was regretful, but he was rich. They lived in friendship and respect. One night the brother who was rich thought about his brother and his family and decided to help his brother. Late at night, he went to the field, took a dozen or so sheaves of grain and moved them to his brother's side. He was very happy that he could help him and his family in this way. The other brother, who had the family, thought I have everything and I have a family, enough for us to live and we are happy, maybe my brother needs a little more to go or seek happiness. He woke up at night and did exactly the same as his brother. What a surprise that every morning despite the efforts the number of sheaves was the same in the fields. Finally, after several months during one night, both brothers met in the field, carrying sheaves. What joy and gratitude, they both rejoiced and thus strengthened their relationships. They were happy. In the Jewish tradition, this story has a different ending, because God, looking at these two brothers and the track that happened, decided by King Solomon to build a temple in this field for himself. In the field of good and love for family and brothers. Today's first reading and gospel refer to God's word and its effects depending on the ground.

The important thing is the effort and the effort of the listener. The word of God remains the same and as we have heard. The Word of Truth, sometimes it takes a long time for God to reveal his mission. God's word is changeless. As for the speaker, the one who provides the word of God is important testimony and belief in fulfilling the mission. The sowing of the word should be very abundant, made by those who keep the truth, are called to convey the unchanging truth of God's word, that is, the church. We must also mention the listener's fatigue and condition. What is his ground, does he accept the word of God in truth and spend 30%, 60% or 100% of what he accepts? It is often the case that the listener is associated with obstacles, does not understand the word and does not want to understand it, explaining that it is impossible, sometimes it happens that he accepts some words and rejects some because it does not suit his life and present choice. These are the effects of ignorance and bad will of man, obstacles from the world and Satan. It is important that Jesus comes to us with love and warns us, so it can happen!!!

Meditating on the story of two brothers and a field, let us ask ourselves, can God find in me such a field in which he will want to build temples for himself? Is my field a field of goodness or love or not? Am I fertilizing my field and trying to make it 100% useful at harvest time?
